Background

A young grassroots political organizer, Frost promotes progressive policies to connect to Gen Z; urge for action against gun violence and climate change in his 2022 House campaign

As the adopted son of a first-generation Cuban immigrant, Frost focuses on systemic issues, like the ones that affected his biological mother

Motivated to invest in politics after the Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting in 2012, when Frost was a 15-year-old high school student

Worked at the ACLU, where he advocated for abortion rights and pushed for the repeal of the Hyde Amendment; led the organization's successful ballot initiative efforts to pass Amendment 2, which gradually raises Florida's minimum wage to $15 per hour, and Amendment 4, which restores voting rights to certain people with felony convictions

Served as the national organizing director for March For Our Lives, the gun violence prevention group created by Parkland shooting survivors

Campaigned for nationally-recognized progressive policies, such as universal health care coverage under Medicare for All and efforts to combat climate change like the Green New Deal; also prioritized gun violence, affordable housing, criminal justice reform, and reproductive health care
