The Frieda Rapoport Caplan Family Business Scholarship Program is designed to increase family business involvement in produce industry advocacy by expanding opportunities for representatives from family businesses to attend United Fresh's Washington Public Policy Conference (WPPC).

Up to four scholarships for employees of family-owned businesses will be awarded in 2009 to attend United's WPPC, Sept. 9-11 in Washington, DC.

Scholarship recipients receive complimentary airfare, a two-night hotel stay, and registration to attend the event and meet personally with congressional leaders and President Obama's executive team.

To apply, participants must complete an application form and written submission detailing why they want to attend the WPPC and what they hope to gain from the experience. Applicants must be employed by a family business that is a United Fresh member company in good standing.

Applications can be downloaded here and must be received by July 24.
